The day will begin with a demonstration at the gallery with a brief question-and-answer session. You will then have an opportunity to paint at Frederick's Country Center, Canby Grove Park as well as the village of Centreville. The instructor of the day will be walking around throughout the painting time, as well as getting in a few moments at their easel. Everyone will gather back at Hardcastle Gallery around 2:30 for an afternoon critique and conversation.

This is an all day paint-along, wear comfortable "what you paint in" clothes. You will need to provide your own easel (plein-air recommended), as well as painting supplies, but all mediums are welcome. We recommend having several prepared painting panels on hand for the day for your medium of choice. Lunch, bug-spray, sunscreen, hats and extra water are not included. Participants should be physically able to carry their own equipment. There are bathroom facilities available at Hardcastle Gallery during the workshop. Space is limited to 10 per day.
